SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Courtesy on the highway is seldom observed in these days or speed. One well- known couple from this district were left stalled in their machine between here and HHobart Mills a few days ago for more than an hour while neighbors and friends, not knowing who the stranded pair were rushed merrily on their way. A half-minute stop would have permitted the unfortunate motorists a chance to send word ahead for aid. We all do it, however, so no blame can be placed. It just goes to show that highway courtesy is a thing of the past.

Here it is nearly the first of July and still chill winds and frosty mornings hold sway. Summer has long been predicted and no doubt will soon be here in all its glory, In the meantime, however, after a visit to the tropics of the vallies, we are going to enjoy the cool mountain air which we find much more to our liking.

Politics are getting a wee bit warm Already leagues are being formed for this or that candidate as the old pot starts to boil We are receiving daily prophaganda urging the support for sundry and diverse potential candidates and causes. It won't be long now and unless you are better posted than we are, a choice will be difficult.

Just wonder what the committee from the Chamber of Commerce, named to determine ways and means of cleaning up and keeping clean Commercial Row, has decided. It is evidentally a big undertaking.

The Sierra Sun today comes forth in it's new dress. The entire news type has been renewed, offering we believe a much better, more readable appearance. We hope you agree with us.

Th Truckee River Sportsman's Association will meet Friday night to reorganize and prepare for a fish-planting program which promises to keep Truckee on the top as a mecca for sporstmen. It is important that the turnout be large as it will take the cooperation of the entire town to put it over.. Business men especially are urged to be present.

It was too bad that the new fire truck counldn't have been procured without the necessity of a district election, but that's the way the proposition stands at present and in order to culminate the long argument over technicalities, the directors have set the date for the election. Now it's up to every citizen of the town to get out and boost for the truck, If Truckee ever needed anything it now needs a fire truck. It isn't the question of cost, its a matter of life and property. Our insurance rates are too high and we are without sufficient protection to assure us of checking a major fire in any part of the town. The old truck is no longer of any use unless a relic. We have an excellent fire department but without equipment it is powerless in a big fire. Often our water pressure is insufficient but with a pumper as proposed on the new truck, we can be assured of ample protection at all times.

Fawns once handled by humans are shunned by other deer if returned to the woods, according to Game Warden Earl Hiscox who is warning people of mistaken sympathies of arrest and prosecution in an effort to curtail the practice of picking up the small animals that have been left motherless or forsaken by the does.

Picking up the young deer in the hills or on the highways is a hinderance to it's chance to live. If left alone it will make it's way with the aid of other deer unless the more experienced animals scent their enemy, man.

ELECTION CALLED TO DECIDE UPON NEW FIRE TRUCK

Commissioners Exhaust All Other Possibilities So Call Election

WILL BE ON JULY 7

Need For New Equipment Stressed As Plans Are Complete

Failure to clear legal hurdles without furthur lengthy controversy, which they feel has already been to enduring, the commissioners of the Truckee Fire District have called a special election to be held to determine finally whether or not Truckee is to have it's much needed fire truck.

The election will be held Wednesday, July 7 at the justice court rooms in the Riverside Hotel.

For the past several months the commissioners, Dr. J. H. Bernard and Frank W. Gaiennie have been working hard in an effort to procure the truck without the expense attached to calling an election but in an interview with the District Attorney Vernon Stoll Wednesday were informed that the election would be advisable and so fixed the date.

The truck and equipment have been ordered and it was believed that the election could be avoided, but because of conflicting reports and rumors, it was decided that unless the electors of the district so decree, Truckee must remain without adequate fire protection, but in event they so wish, the truck will be secured immediately.

The old truck is no longer of use and is seldom able to travel under it's own power let alone be of value as a pumper. At recent fires, a tow car has been necessary to bring the delapidated old relic to the scene and then it is more in the way than useful. Every effort has been exhausted to repair it and keep it in any kind of condition.

The cost of the new vehicle, together with the modern equipment will be little in excess of $3000.

THAT EVENING DRIVE

These warm days of California will cause hundreds of thousands of motorists to seek the refreshing coolness of evening driving on the highways.

Let us hope to many do not find, instead, the terrible tragedy of injury and death.

We can do more than hope. We can remember, before starting out, a few very pointed facts about California motor accidents disclosed in the statistical studies of the California Highway Patrol.

One is that speed is the greatest single contributor to the toll of some 2500 deaths each year. Another is that the carefree, expansive feeling accompanying pleasure driving in the cool evening makes for carelessness at the Wheel. A third is that most California accidents occur on good roads, during clear weather, and involve a violation of the law.

Unfortunately, also, we must be on the lookout for the confirmed moron who cnsistently flouts caution. After all, injury or death at his hands can never be compensated by proving his guilt.

The time to remember these things is, is, of course, before starting off on the evening drive, and during it. After your hit, it's too late.

ON PROSPERITY ROAD

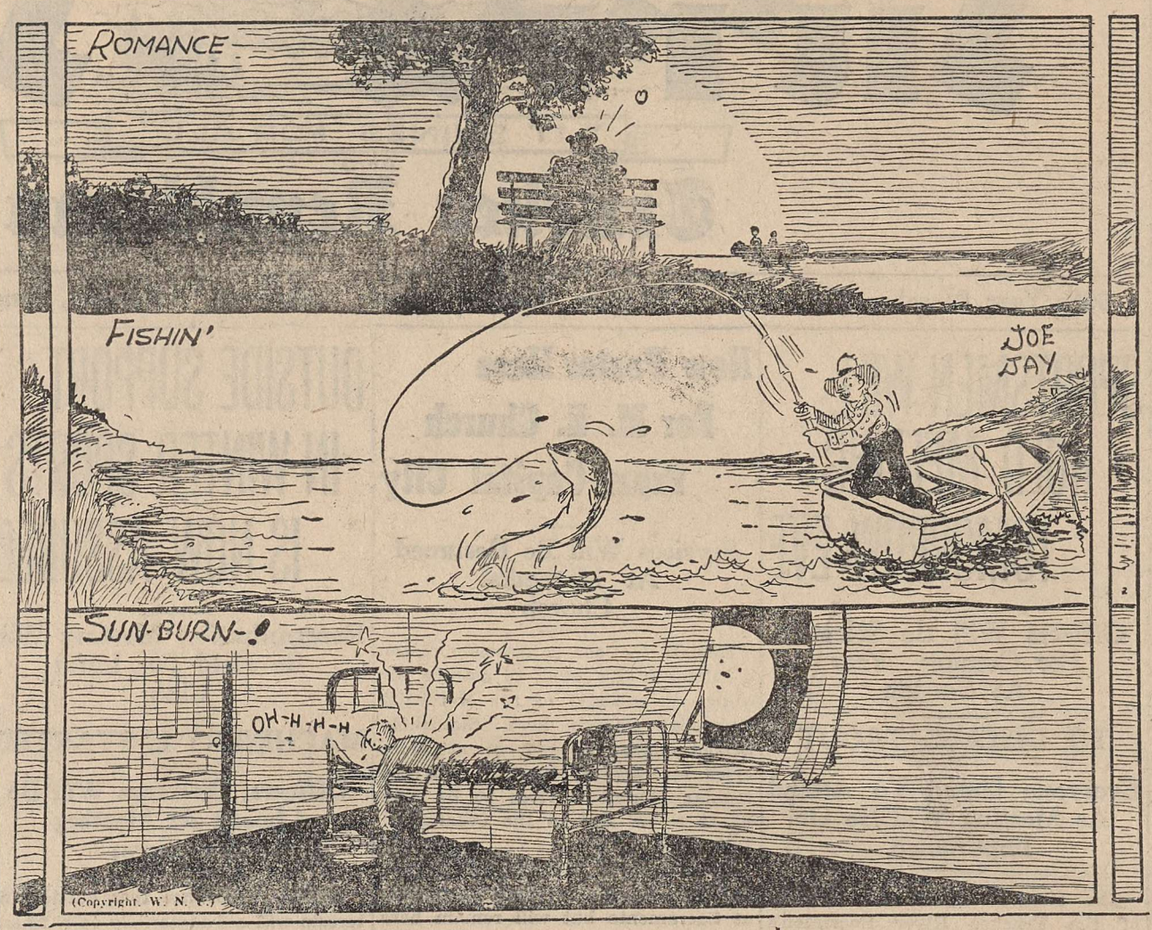
For some time past the so-called liberals have occupied the top of the heap. They gained this ascendancy during the era which began with a painful phenomenon known as "The Crash", was followed by a melancholy period known as "Depression," and is now concluding, with all sorts of growing pains, in what we call the "recovery."

These years have seen our state and national legislators flirting with all manner of follies, from taxes on effeciency to bounties on inneffeciency. Yet the rise of the liberal was logical. Things were bad—something had to be done. Working fast, experimenting in the hope they could produce miracles on a grand scale, the liberals were certain to make mistakes. This country was fortunate that the percentage of error was no higher, as it easily might have been.

Now that actual recovery is within our grasp, the situation calls for a return to the "middle road" of political thought. More and more, our state and national leaders are thinking in that channel. Washington minds are on economy and encouragemeot of legitimate business enterprise. And let it be recalled of the most recent California legislature that, aside from an attempt to repeal the law of supply and demand through a price-fixing bill, it's members stayed well within bounds of common sense government.

Our need now is for more "middle road" thought. One serious mistake might toss us back five years into the depression. Let's attempt no hatred taxes; let's stop punishing one group for another's prize; let us think before we act. Let's be prepared to hold recovery once we grasp it.

In the Good Old Summertime



Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, June 24 —(UP— Capitol observers are betting, now that the Merriam recall movement will not be qualified.

Authentic reports are almost impossible to obtain, because of the secrecy which has surrounded the operations both of recall advocates and administration forces, but rumors which have reached the capitol have indicted that the movement, if not stopped, has been slowed to such an extent that it will not find a place on the November ballot.

One rumor, from a source usually considered reliable, spread rapidly the word that instigators of the recall has been paid off; that one settled for $15,000, others for less, and that the circulation of recall petitions had slowed down considerably.

Previously, it was reported quite generally that friends of the administration purchased petitions and destroyed them, spending considerable amounts in their effort to block the accumulation of names. They found that it would be cheaper and more effective to go to the source of the movement.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam has refused to discuss the recall and has evidenced little public interest in it. His lieutenants, however, have blamed it upon disgruntled office seekers, politicians wh desired to becloud the presidential issue in November, or left wing democrats who saw an opportunity of taking full advantage of a heavy bourbon registration and possibly moving one of their numbers into the chief executives office. Office seekers used the recall as an excuse to call upon the government and tell him it was within their power to stop it if he would reciprocate by making the "proper" appointments. No appointments resulted from those advances, so far as could be ascertained.

Some officials believed the recall was nothing but a racket engineered either by professional petition circulators who make a few cents on each signature obtained, or by persons who pushed it along for the simple purpose of worrying the administration to the point of paying a goodly sum to stop it.

The general attitude among capitol observers was that a recall based upon generalities would fail. The petitions aimed at Merriam did not make any specific charges, and those responsible for starting it remained so well in the background that the movement spread without apparent leadership, being concentrated in Los Angeles where voters are plentiful and signatures on almost any kind of petition are easy to obtain.

Members of the board of equilization chuckled gleefully when Jesse Crain, former chauffeur for "Queen Helen" Werner, was indicated by the Los Angeles grand jury a few weeks after Michael Connolly received the same treatment at the hands of the Alameda grand jury.

Crain and Connolly furnished a major portion of the information and hurled most of the sensational charges leading up to and during the Los Angeles meeting of Assemblyman Leon M. Donihue's investigating committee. Broad smiles spread in the board room when word of Crain's indictment was circulated.

The board, lately, has devoted it's time to hearing complaints against tax assesments and handling other routine affairs far removed from the cry of corruption in liquor enforcement. Not subpenaed to appear before th Donihue committee in San Francisco, the members declined to discuss reports that their income tax records would be scrutinized or that th American Decalomania stamp contract would be examined.

Nothing new developed in the feud between the governor and his board appointee, Ray Edgar, although new Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . .

(By SWANEE)

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Harris of Timberland Tract have entertained frequently at their summer home here since their recent arrival at Tahoe. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paine of Oakland sojourned with them, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Dozier of Sacramento, being guests on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. William McCloud of Hayward enjoyed last week at the Harris home and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Halsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, accompanied by her husband spent last weekend at Timberland.

Patrolman Gene Walker arrived on Monday to take charge of Tahoe's summer traffic problems. He will reside in Homewood this season at Bill Johnston's place, El Campo. Motorists defying the 25 mile an hour speed limit through this little lakeside community had best be prepared for arrest and fine as special attention will be given to speeders and reckless drivers.

Patrolman Benjamin Hepper of Lodi has been transferred to the Tahoe district and will reside at or near Meek's Bay. He will divide the south end and the west side of the lake with Officer Walker, allowing the latter to give more attention to the new highway on the north end of Tahoe, where speeding is anticipated.

James Jansen, 22, of Reno, discovered that speeding and reckless driving doesn't pay when on Sunday he was halted by officer Walker, in the Sunnyside district for infractions of both of these laws. Constable Harry Johansen of Tahoe kept the young man a unwilling visitor in the city's concrete 'cooler' for three and a half hours while a girl friend and boy who were passengers in the car, hied themselve to Reno for the $10 fine money which Jansen was fined by Justice of the Peace George Bliss in town, before whom he was arraigned.

Stineman of Wheatland was given in marriage riage by her father, Miss Doris Shaver of Marysville sang the old favorite ' I Love You Truly' accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Martin Spitzen. The bride and groom were unattended.

A special luncheon was served more than 50 members of the wedding party at Prusso's Forest Inn on Ward Creek where the long tables were gaily decorated with native wild flowers for the occasion.

The newlyweds slipped away before the conclusion of therepast leaving for Yosemite by automobile. A week will be spent in a leisurely tour of interesting points in Southern California.

CHAMPION NIMROD LURES FINE FISH IN LOCAL STREAM

TAHOE CITY, June 24.—Old timers at Tahoe are thrilling this week as the stirring details of a fishing expedition on the Truckee river are being recounted in sporting circles.

The hero of this tale is none other than Hugh Bryan, youthful accountant at the Truckee branch of the Bank of America, who spent last Sunday at his favorite sport. He has recuperated from the strenuous effects of his "thrill that comes once in a lifetime" while his prize catch is being proudly displayed in a Truckee cafe.

Something of a tenderfoot at the fishing game, hespent some time attempting to lure the shiny, elusive trout onto his hook without success. The mosquitos were plentiful and the day was pleasant but the fish just didn't seem interested. About ready to call it a day, he felt a quick jerk on his line which was riding listlessly among the rocky pools of the river. Gripping his pole, he prepared to land his vicitim but it was not as easy as he thought. Reeling in, the trout whirled and splashed about, diving under a rocky ledge where after a terrific battle and considerable skillful manipulation it was successfully drawn to shore. Bryan mopped his brow and smiled with utmost satisfaction. He would not go home empty-handed after all.

Slim Ellert of the Truckee Sport Shop who weighed and measured the fish declared it was one of the finest specimen he had ever seen taken from the river.

It weighed nealy Six Ounces and was ALMOST FOUR INCHES LONG

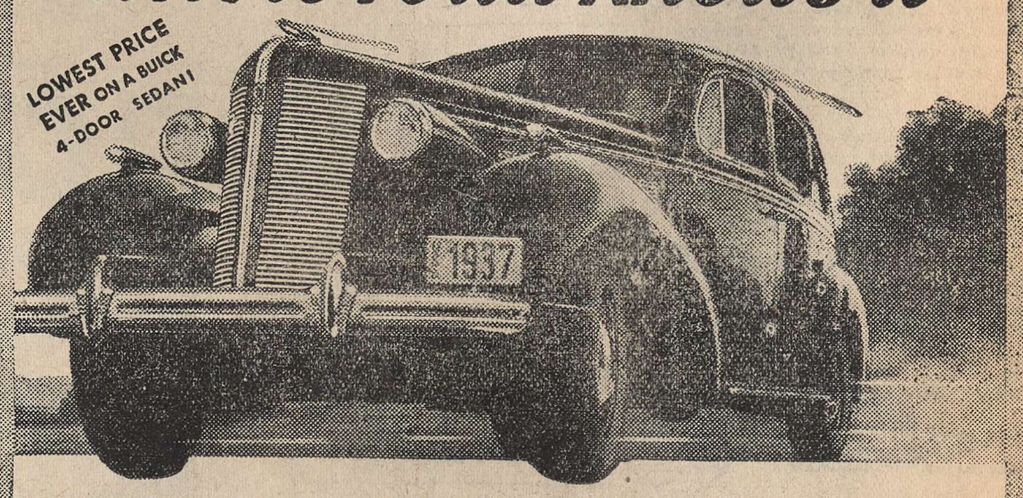
HEAD MAN—and the whole road knows it



THERE'S one thing you can tell from the very look of Buick—when the man behind this wheel bugles for road-room—room on the road is what he's going to get!

For here's the boss car of the bunch this year—and the whole road knows it.

Under that deep-barreled bonnet is the ablest straight-eight engine in the world—you'll never have need for all the power this quick and quiet giant can pour forth.

It's rugged, solid, firm-set, built close to the road—there's no wander or weave, no sidesway on the curves.

Try the wheel. Obedient as your finger. Press the brakes. A toe-touch stops you soft and sure. Check the take-off. You get the jump at every light, nimble as a sprinter breaking fast out of his hole.

Yes, this glorious Buick is head man of the highway—and that's the kind of car we think you want. It's the kind of car you can easily have. For with all that's in this stand-out performer—it still sells at the lowest Buick prices ever.

Match price tags with the sixes and you'll find you can afford this eight. Why aren't you driving one now?
